Forecast for Monday 30 Nov 2020

Weather: A cloudy and murky start. Probably brightening up for a time during the late morning, but thicker cloud, with outbreaks of rain and drizzle will spread in from the north during the afternoon, as westerly winds increase. Staying cloudy and drizzly for much of the evening.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 600m: 10-30% early on with areas of mist, fog and low cloud. Increasing to 60-70% during the late morning, but reducing again to 20-40% through the afternoon, as frontal cloud spreads in, with extensive cloud above 500m.

Visibility: Visibility will generally be quite poor in mist, rain and drizzle. However it is likely to become moderate to good for a time during the late morning/early afternoon.
